Weigh-A-Day-A-Month-Plan

A new program for milk producers that will fit the Grade A or manufactured producers will be introduced in this county in a few weeks. It is a low cost milk-recording service that provides a new opportunity for dairy farmers to participate in a record keeping system in order to improve their efficiency ofproduction and to increase their income.

This program is needed in Appomattox County when the following facts are considered:

1. Nine out of ten farmers selling milk in the United States keep no production records of their herds, or of individual cows.

2. Fifty years experience with the DHIA plan shows that there is no substitute for production records in management and improving a dairy herd.

3. Milk is produced more cheaply and efficiently by high producing than by low producing cows. DHIA records for 1953-54 show the following relationship between production and feed cost. A cow producing 4,000 pounds of milk has a feed cost of $3.15 per hundred pounds of milk. One producing 8,000 pounds, costs $2.16 for feed per hundred pounds of milk, and one producing 14,000 pounds costs only $1.61 for feed.

The cost will be about 5c per cow per month. More information will follow on this system of record keeping.

Poor Wiring - Bottleneck

Poor wiring is a bottleneck in the expanded use of electricity. It's been estimated that the wiring on 90 per cent of Virginia farms is inadequate for the present electrical loads. The wiring on Appomattox County farms follows the same pattern.

How did this happen?

When farmers first received electric service, they didn't realize how the uses of electricity would grow in the years ahead. So wiring systems were installed for lights and only a few appliances. The wiring systems have not kept pace with expanding electrical loads.

Some of the symptoms of an overloaded wiring system include blown fuses, sluggish motors, dim lights.

On a limited electrical diet, appliances are slow and inefficient, and the farmer pays for electricity that's lost and for which he gets no benefit.

There's only one answer to the problem of inadequate and overloaded wiring systems. That is to install an up-to-date system.

Electricity travels over circuits to the points of use. When wiring is overloaded, these circuits are carrying too much electrical traffic.

One way to remedy this situation is to install additional circuits. In some cases, wiring can be remodeled to meet present-day needs at relatively little expense. In other situations, a major rewiring job may be needed.

If you want help on plans for remodeling your wiring system, the County Agent's office will be happy to hear from you.

SLASH POLICE CARS TIRES

Washington, D. C.- Police are looking for the vandals who punched or slashed ten tires on eight police cars parked in the Police Department's municipal center garage. Six of the cars were police cruisers and the other two were owned by police inspectors.

LIFEGUARD GETS THANKS

Westerly, R. I.- Although Frank Turano, veteran lifeguard at Misquamicut Beach, is credited with 500 rescues in 22 years, he recently received his first thank-you note for a rescue. It was from Miss Yolande Messier, of Norwich, Conn., whom he helped from the surf on August 19.

The fastest flight speeds ever reached under laboratory test conditions — exceeding 10,000 miles per hour — are being achieved at the Naval Air Station, at Moffett Field, California, home of Ames Aeronautical Laboratory.

Attend the A. H. S. home - coming parade and football game here Friday afternoon and evening.

Tuesday, Nov. 6 is Election Day.

IN MEMORIAM
October 24, 1956.
In remembrance of husband and father, C. L. Johnson.
God took him, we know not why,
But time, and we hope to meet him
On a happy, better day.
Twelve long months of heartache,
We have suffered in this world alone,
But God's will we must obey,
When He calls us home.
—Sadly missed by Wife and Children.

unsulphured molasses, and butter in a 2-quart saucepan. Place over low heat and stir sugar is dissolved. Cook over heat until syrup, when dropped very cold water, separates threads which are hard but not brittle or until candy thermometer reads 270 degrees F. Pour syrup popped corn, stirring to coat kernel. When cool enough to shape into balls with lightly greased hands. Wrap each ball in waxed paper. Yield: Approximately dozen popcorn balls.

Fall Care of Garden Tools

Before winter sets in, it pays to clean and store your garden tools properly in good condition and ready to work with the spring. Experienced home garden advisors suggest Tools and garden supplies often are ruined by rust or freezing during the winter because they were forgotten in the fall. For example, the galvanized iron hand sprayers can rust out over winter unless they are thoroughly rinsed and then kept in a dry place. Rinse with clean water or a mild ammonia solution, then open up and hang them down. A neglected hose with rust inside may spring a leak in freezing weather. So empty your hose, roll up and store away. On mild winter days you can bring it out again for washing your car, etc. Clean mud off all tools, rub with a little wax to prevent rust and store in a dry place. Rust can be removed with steel wool before applying wax. Fall is the time also to get tools sharpened, the lawn mower included, ready to go in the spring. This garden - equipment clean-up can save both time and money.

Turkey Talk

Your Thanksgiving turkey this year is likely to cost less than it did a year ago, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reports.

Because of the record number of the traditional American birds on hand this year, your holiday meal will be favorably priced whether you prefer the popular small-sized bird or the time-honored big Thanksgiving turkey.

Along with the generally increased supply of turkeys this fall, you will find also, an increase in the number of Federally inspected and graded birds.

More and more poultry processors these days are using the USDA voluntary inspection and grading services. You will know that the turkey you buy has been Federally inspected if you find on it under the wrapper, or attached to the wing, a little round mark bearing the words "Inspected for Wholesomeness by U. S. Department of Agriculture."

Miss Babcock Wed Recently To Mr. Rosser

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Babcock, of Appomattox announce the marriage of their daughter, Rebecca Lue, to Jesse Morton Rosser, Jr., son of Mrs. J. M. Rosser and the late Mr. Rosser, of Appomattox.

The ceremony took place at the home of Rev. Dr. Carl A. Collins, Jr., pastor of Liberty Baptist Church, Appomattox, on Oct. 17.

Miss Babcock was graduated from the Virginia Baptist School of Nursing, where she now holds a position. The bridegroom is a graduate of Appomattox High School, attended Hampden-Sydney College and V. P. I., served in the U. S. Army, and is now employed by the N & W Railway Co.

CHANDLER - CHERNAULT

The wedding of Miss Dorothy Jane Chernault, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Ernest Chernault, and Obie Fred Chandler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Chandler, all of Appomattox, took place at the Baptist parsonage, Saturday, October 20. Dr. Carl A. Collins, Jr., the pastor, was celebrant.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a brown suit, with beige accessories. She wore a corsage of yellow roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Chernault entertained with a reception at their home, where arrangements of white flowers with pompom anemones were supplemented by candles in wedding effect.

After a southern bridal trip, the couple will live in Appomattox.

The next meeting of the Pamplin P.-T. A. will be held Tuesday, November 20.

NEW BOOK IN THE COUNTY LIBRARY

Wreck of The Mary Deare, by Hammond Innes.

The Mary Deare was a 6,000 ton freighter, torpedoed three times in two world wars, wrecked twice before. At the formal investigation into her loss, Higgins, her First Mate, described her as a "floating" death-trap of rattling rivets and clanging plates, a piece of leaking ironmongery taken off the junk heap of the China Seas." This was the ship that rounded Ushant on March 18, battered and exhausted by a Biscay gale, and sailed into the Channel — apparantly unmanned! John Sands saw the Mary Deare briefly that night from the deck of his sailing vessel, the Sea Witch. He saw her again the following morning, abandoned and drifting close to the great reef areas of the Channel Islands. And in boarding her and attempting to satisfy his curiosity, he became involved in the mystery of the Mary Deare. This is a great sea story.
